Part of the prep will be to watch the documentary Someone You Love, which follows the lives of five women affected by HPV and discusses the risks, myths, politics, misconceptions, and hard truths of the epidemic. On the night of the TRUTH Talk, we will have panelists Dr. Emma Mitchell (UVA Assistant Professor and Community Health Nurse) and Janaye Oliver (Virginia Department of Health's Adolescent Immunization Program Coordinator) on hand to answer questions.

RAFFLE FOR SEVERAL GIFT CARDS AT THE END OF Q&A

TRUE RATIONAL UNDERSTANDING THROUGH HONEST TALKS

T.R.U.T.H. Talks are designed after a national program to engage the campus and local communities on issues of diversity and inclusion of all types. It is vital that we all examine how issues centered on difference present themselves in everyday life. These forums provide a structured environment for all involved to voice their concerns and their praises.
