Dear Parents,

My name is Brittany Jennings, and I am a pre-service teacher attending Averett University. It is my goal not only to provide all students with an educationally challenging classroom, but also to help your child build character, understand writing structure, and learn new vocabulary through the Junie B. Jones book series. Focusing on Junie B. Jones and Some Sneaky Peeky Spying, I will use this book to focus on building good character traits. Displaying good character traits is valuable in the classroom to build morals and self-respect. In this book, your son or daughter will learn about the concept of spying and how spying can lead to getting into trouble. I have crafted several interactive activities to help students connect with the character of Junie B. Jones.

In addition to the Junie B. Jones education resource packet, your child will have an opportunity to see the character of Junie B. Jones come to life. In the spring of 2020, The Prizery in South Boston, Virginia will stage a production of Junie B. Jones: The Musical. The production will be a great experience for you and your child to connect what was learned through the resource packet to the character on stage.

With appreciation,

Ms. Jennings
